Directions to Foundation for Deep Ecology

Bldg 1062, Fort Cronkhite, Marin Headlands, GGNRA, Sausalito

Heading North from San Francisco on Highway 101:

Cross the Golden Gate Bridge and take the Alexander Avenue exit (second exit after GG Bridge). Stay to the right and merge onto Alexander Ave, and then take the first left (it's approx. 10 seconds past the end of the off ramp, so be ready!) marked "Marin Headlands." Go straight to the tunnel entrance. Follow directions below *

Heading South from Marin Co. on Highway 101:

Go through the Waldo tunnel, take the last "Sausalito" exit before the Golden Gate Bridge. At the stop sign, make a right turn and follow the road back under Highway 101. Continue to another stop sign, and go straight approx 50 yards. Take the first left past the stop, marked "Marin Headlands." Go straight to the tunnel entrance. Follow the directions below. *

* Directions continued (from tunnel):

Wait for the green light before proceeding through the tunnel. Continue on the main road (Bunker Rd) and follow the signs to Rodeo Beach and Fort Cronkhite. After crossing a small bridge and driving around the lagoon (Rodeo Lagoon) the road will fork. Take the left fork and continue down the hill toward the ocean. The road ends near the beach and there is a large parking lot on the right. Park in the lot. The Foundation for Deep Ecology, building #1062, is the 4th building on the left as you walk down the narrow road between the buildings. For help call 415/ 229-9339. Wheelchair access is from the east side of the building.
